The Truck Side Guard Specialist

What Are Truck Side Guards?

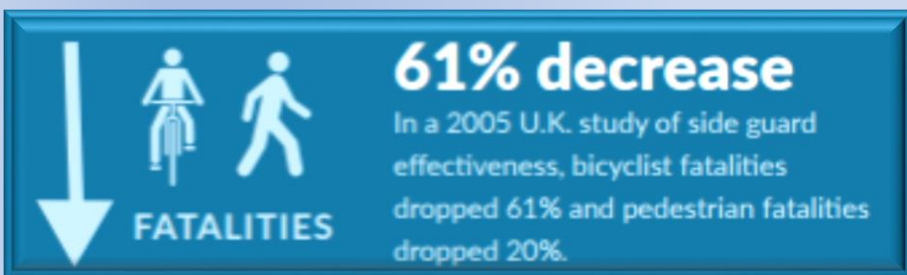

Truck Side Guards are a vehicle based safety device designed to keep pedestrians, bicyclists, and motorcyclists from being run over by the rear tires of a large truck. Walker Blocker Side Guards were designed to block and deflect, preventing the deadliest road crashes.

Are Truck Side Guards Important?

YES...They SAVE LIVES! Crashes involving large trucks and specifically side-impact collisions are the deadliest road crashes and are likely to kill pedestrians and bicyclists. The exposed gaps between the front and rear wheels need to be covered.

Whose Already Saving Lives?

The United States is behind in side guard safety. Side Guards have been required around the world for many years. Since the 1980's the European Union and Japan have required side guards. They are mandatory in Brazil, parts of Canada, the UK, London, China and more.

UNITED STATES

BOSTON -2014 passes nations first side guard ordinance. They are now mandated on all city and city contracted Class 3 or vehicles over 10,000lbs.

PORTLAND OR, SEATTLE WA, and D.C. have all mandated that their city vehicles have side guards installed.
